

MAUI RETURNS BY PRECINCTS

Now is a splendid time to have those pictures taken.

Before the holiday rush begins we can take plenty of time to get acquainted and bring out your best points.

Also—we have some interesting things in new style mountings.

Leonard Cleanable One-Piece Portable Steel Refrigerator

You never thought of having the best of refrigerators in your refrigerator, did you? And yet it is quite possible that Americans should be pleased right there. Suppose you go right now and examine your refrigerator.

Just think of it. Come down on a car while visiting the place which you have waded into the recesses of the wide world, who has such as shelf supports and other tools and devices; or left on the uncleanable glassware box, and this part is not handleable, but the problem of that glassware is presumably solved.

Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator

Think of the smooth, white porcelain lining, all iron and glass, no corners, no cracks, no crevices, no rooms to hide. Then, because, as soon as you come down, cover and seal and open a Leonard Cleanable portable refrigerator again.

New rules regulating the number of lifeboats and other safety appliances, as well as the use of wireless on ocean steamboats were adopted by a conference of the German ministers and shipping interests at Berlin.

IT PAYS

To Know Facts About Coffee.

When man takes properly selected food and drink Nature will almost always assert herself and rebuild the structures properly.

From my earliest remembrance I was a confirmed coffee drinker, writes a gentleman, "taking two cups at nearly every meal. While at college I became very nervous, dyspeptic, irritable and unfit for study and attributed it largely to coffee, but did not stop its use."

"When I was married I found my wife was troubled the same way, and we decided to try Postum. My wife made the Postum according to directions and we found it superb. We used it exclusively for the morning beverage, and the taste of ordinary coffee became distasteful to both of us."

"We have found a distinct gain in health. Any amount of Postum does not cause a feeling of either dyspepsia or nervousness, while the return to coffee even for one meal has disastrous effects upon my nerves. My indigestion has entirely left me, and both my wife and self are well and strong and feel that it is all due to the Postum."

It is easy to replace coffee with Postum which has, when properly made, a rich flavor and the color of coffee with none of its injurious after-effects.

community. He had fought hard to win, and many of his closest friends thought he had won.

The bitterest-fought contest of all was over the chairman of the board of supervisors. Kalama thought he would be less than one hundred in the lead, and up to the last vote Cotsalo still believed he was to win the chairmanship.

The campaign has been on Maui an educational one in very many respects. Never before were speeches listened to so eagerly, and such intelligent questions asked. Comparatively little drinking went on near the polls. This is a decided change over some years. While there was some carousing in Wailuku streets after the polls were known, yet the affair was confined to comparatively few.

All the Republicans are happy over the results, and they have a right to be, for they worked hard. Kuhn undoubtedly helped the Maui candidates greatly by his earnest appeal that all should vote the straight ticket.

H. B. Penhallow, who is running this year for the first time for an office, made a splendid impression upon all voters. His appeal to them was along the highest lines, and they appreciated greatly his straightforward speeches.

JOHN M. MOORE WRITES OF RAILROAD Y.M.C.A. WORK

In February, two years ago, the Young Men's Christian Association of Honolulu received a visit from John M. Moore, of New York, who was at that time one of the economists of the railroad department of the International Committee. Mr. Moore has since been promoted to the senior secretarship and is now at the head of the work conducted by the Y. M. C. A. Among the railroad men throughout North America, an organization having 35,000 members, he has just successfully conducted the greatest convention of railroad men ever held, of which one of the features was the big banquet in the Chicago Armory at which 1,000 men sat down together.

In the November number of Association Man, the official organ of the Y. M. C. A., an article concerning this banquet has been printed, and is, in part, as follows:

"President Stevens, of the C. & G. said that on account of the spending $100,000 a year for Association activities, hence, he could make no railroad pay better, and from the men's testimony it seemed that they were adding ten years to their life, a big percentage to their efficiency and what was most satisfactory to themselves and their families. President Stevens' accounting stands unchallenged by the majority of railroads."

"President Snyder, of the Chicago Association, in his address at a recent Memorial Day, said that there was in existence today a platform upon which employer and employee could meet with such mutual self-respect, interest and profit as that which is thus furnished the railroad branch of the Association. Every day the conference proved this. Spokesmen and president were thus on equal footing. There was neither cringing nor patronizing."

"Among the speakers were frequent Mates of the Rock Island lines, President Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, president Bush of the Missouri Pacific, and Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Starver company. The speakers extended down from president through engineers, conductors, firemen, switchmen, brakemen and men in the shop."

Miss Helen Gould was invited in her arrival by an accident on the road. When she entered the hall in midst of the convention in company with Cyrus H. McCormick, the entire body rose with one accord in greeting. No woman in the world has won so many hearts of working men as Helen Gould has. When this remarkable woman appeared in a meeting of railroad men the enthusiasm can only be compared to the cheering at a presidential convention.

The European powers are much disturbed by the success with which the Greeks and Slavs are meeting, and England, France and Russia have practically determined upon intervention.

The Mexicans went from King City to San Francisco with the treasure in a big steamer trunk. The discovery, as told by Rogers, was kept a secret for a week, until the cowboy found it necessary to explain his sudden symptoms of wealth.
